

MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

Who Can Join the Association?

Regular Membership: Any firm or individual supplying goods or services to the mining industry. Membership applications will be subject to approval by the MSABC Executives.

Who are we? What are our aims?

The purpose of the Mining Suppliers Association of B.C. is to support and enhance opportunities for B.C. Suppliers of goods and Services to the Mining Industry.

Other important objectives include:

- To be recognized as a positive force in support of the mining Industry.
- To be actively involved in gathering and disseminating information on new mining supply products, technologies and markets of the mining industry.
- To work in mutual co-operation with the mining industry and help promote a healthy economic climate.

A VOICE

- In conjunction with the MABC, the Association monitors public issues and government activities always on the lookout for those, which will affect mining suppliers, consultants and contractors. The Association speaks out as a single but strong body informing the public or government of the carefully considered position of those who supply services and/or goods to the mining industry. Tax policies, transportation issues, mining regulations and a host of other policy issues influence the success of those who provide services to mining. The Association contributes reliable, useful and timely information to our public policy makers, promoting the interests of those who supply mining.

A FORUM

- The Association provides information on British Columbia's mining industry to those who need it most - those that supply the industry with its tools, professional and technical advice and contractor services. Contacts and leads arise from knowledge of who is doing what in mining today. Who is making purchasing decisions? What new properties are being developed? What are trends in equipment and technology? How will market conditions and government activities impact on mining and how will these affect the supply industries? As an information forum, the Association keeps the supply industry on top of mining, aware of new opportunities to do business.

What Does It Cost?

Annual regular membership fees are based on the firm's total corporate revenues.

(Please note - fees cover a calendar year and include 5% GST)

Cities/Towns/ Industry Associations	$262.50

Why Join the Association?

The supply of goods and services to mining in British Columbia is well over a billion dollar business annually. Access to timely information of mining activities provides contacts and leads so that members can expand sales. More importantly, the Association offers suppliers, contractors and consultants a platform to speak out on public issues affecting them or affecting their vital customer - MINING. Purchased materials, supplies and services amounted to $2.1 billion in 1989. From 1980 to 1989 the mining suppliers, contractors and consultants have received revenues totaling $18.77 billion directly from the mining industry. This is a big, important business in the B.C. economy and it is very dependent on a strong, healthy mining industry.
